

November is National Family Caregivers Month

The Family Caregiver Alliance (FCA) is hosting a blog and a media campaign regarding caregiving.

Family Caregiver Alliance's 30 Days of Caregiving Blog

- FCA is publishing daily blog posts during the month of November exploring four (4) week-long themes about ongoing changes in the caregiving landscape--changes in who provides care, what the needs of care recipients and caregivers are, where caregiving is taking place in an increasingly globalized society, and how caregiving takes place in light of new technological innovations and policy interventions.

Family Caregiver Alliance's Social Media Campaign

- Family Caregiver Alliance (FCA) is launching a campaign to raise awareness across social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter, about the 40 million U.S. family caregivers who provide approximately $470 billion of unpaid service annually.
- Throughout the month, FCA will post photographs of caregivers across the country holding a sign that reads, "I am a Caregiver for my _____," to recognize and publicize the invaluable service family caregivers provide.
- To participate in the campaign, visit this page, where you can download your "I am a Caregiver for my _____" sign.
